PLAY TO LEAD OFF BIG FETE

A tear-jerking "mellerdrammer" tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium will launch the greatest Old Settlers' Day celebration in its 64-year history in Campbell. And the play that will be presented by the Footlighters will be a double bill yet!!

When the curtain drops on the final act of this heart-rending play, queen of the three-day celebration will be crowned. Not until then will the official announcement be made as which one of the seven lovelies in the race is to wear the regal robes of office. The seven in the race are Lynda Foreman, Joan Geist, Pat Means, Gail Robertson, Danice Solomon, Sherry Robinson, and Julie Gallagher.

The mother-of-the-year award winner will also be announced, and introduced. Five mothers, Mrs. Herman Rice, Mrs. James Goble, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Catherine Haliwell, and Mrs. Clarence Helmbold, are competing for this honor. In addition, the queen mother of the celebration, Mrs. T. A. Robinson, chosen from those who have lived in this area for 50 years or more will be presented.

Just A Start

All in all Friday night will be a big evening. And it's only a beginning!

The activity-packed three-day program will come to a close on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the high school football field when a special program will be presented honoring all mothers of the community. Campbell's mother-of-the year and the queen mother will be special guests and Rev. Charles Dullea, S. J., rector of Bellarmine, will be the speaker. The 60-piece Sciots band of Watsonville will present a concert as a special feature of this program.

Parade on Saturday

The most colorful part of the celebration, of course, will be the traditional parade which will move down Campbll Ave. at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. The five-division parade with more musical organizotions, more marching units, and more organizations represented than ever before will pass the reviewing stand at the high school and disband at Milton and Hedegard.

On Saturday night at 8:30,one of the largest square dances ever held here will take place in the Hunts Food Co. building on Harrison Ave.

During the three day celebration, a carnival, complete in every detail, will be operating at the intersection of Latimer and Winchester. The carnival will be set up Thursday and will take down its tents Sunday night. Booths and concessions of all descriptions sponsored by various community organizations will also be operating at the carnival location.

Honor Old Settlers

Old settlers will be guests at a luncheon at the grammar school auditorium at 11:30 a. m. Saturday. Dr. Benjamin F. Gilbert, associate professor of history at San Jose State, and an expert on California history, will be the main speaker at the luncheon. Rep. Charles Gubser, grand marshal of the parade, will also talk briefly.

IT'S OLD SETTLERS' TIME AGAIN

This weekend Campbell celebrates the second oldest event of its kind in California, the 64th Annual Old Settlers' Celebration.

Campbell's celebration is a "natural" from many points of view. It honors the old-timers, but it gives the new-timers an opportunity to participate in an all-community event. It builds up community pride for all, as old-timers, medium-timers and young-timers all work together toward a common goal.

This year motherhood is being specially honored. A mother-of-the-year for the community will be chosen and a queen mother will also reign. This is particularly apropos, with the celebration coming just one week prior to Mother's Day.

There will be entertainment for every member of the family during the three days. Tomorrow night the tear-jerking melodrama launches the festivities. From then on until late Sunday afternoon there will be a continuous round of activities that will focus the attention on our city from points far distant.

All of us should have a sense of pride over the achievement of the hard-working committees, spearheaded by Sam Cava, energetic Chamber of Commerce manager.

It's a job well done.

DANGER IN THE CREEK BED

This past Sunday my youngster and I were wandering along in the Los Gatos Creek bed, wading in the swiftly flowing water and enjoying ourselves in spite of the many deposits of unsightly litter which we noted here and there. Over to the side of the bank some unsupervised 11 and 12-year olds were throwing rocks at bottles along the bank, creating more litter and potential danger—smoking forbidden cigarettes and ending up with a rock fight between rival groups. My youngsters had been instructed to wear tennis shoes while wading to protect themselves from underwater objects. Not so were the teen-age girls clad in bathing suits and gaily dashing about in the water up stream a ways. Sure enough, with a piercing scream, one of the girls stepped on a broken bottle hidden alongside a rock and cut a three-inch gash in her foot.

After quieting the youngster down, and taking her home to be cared for, indignant thoughts came to our mind, of the rank carelessness of people who toss bottles and cans and other junk into the creek bottoms. Such is the result of thoughtlessness. But people are thoughtless—painfully so, it seems. So, if your youngters go tramping around in the creek bottom, insist that they wear shoes even when wading. You can't keep them away—where there is a flowing stream, there you will find youngsters, who do not think of such precautions.

Actually, this area is worthy of consideration by the county for improvement, now that the Lexington Dam keeps the stream flowing into the late spring and summer months. CC

TREAD LIGHTLY, JURISTS!

The recent occasion during which a presiding judge took a prospective juror to task for speaking his mind in the courtroom, barring him from further jury duty in this county, and suggesting that he was not worthy of being a citizen, has aroused a good deal of indignation among many people. This is not the only time in which we have listened to complaints of persons appearing for jury selection that they have been treated in a very brusque and belittling manner, both by presiding judges and attorneys.

Frankly, the unfortunately common practice of damage suits being pressed on a percentage basis has often been referred to disparagingly in general conversation—we feel the citizen had every right to take a stand on this or any other point, he felt inclined to. Let judges and attorneys not forget, too, that the prospective juror had probably been notified some 24 hours previously that, no matter what he had planned for that day, on pain of court action, he was to appear in court—with little compensation. Remember too, attorneys and jurists, that the man or woman you are subjecting to curt and uncomplimentary cross-examination is generally a respected citizen and not on trial for a crime.

We realize of course, that there are those occasional individuals who are not willing to serve as jurors and they might try your patience at times. As in all matters, there are two sides to every situation, with the added fact that, in general, the only people who are in a courtroom willingly are those who are responsible for its operation. CC

ORGANIZING GENIUS OF SAM CAVA, C. OF C. MANAGER, GETS JOB DONE

As the community prepared for the Old Settlers' Day celebration this weekend, almost to a person those interested in the three-day program were commending Sam Cava, efficient secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, for the job he had done in planning and organizing the event, which is expected to top all past celebrations.

Cava, a former president of the local Chamber of Cammerce, was employed by the C. of C. in February as its first fill-time secretary-manager. The local Chamber had been in a dormant stage for more than six months. Both business and professional men of the city knew that it had to be revived, if the town was going to progress.

Cava, a resident of the Santa Clara Valley for 35 years with years of experience as a cannery executive, immediately directed all his energies to his new job. He was well qualified for the position, although he had more or less retired from business activities. While serving as president of the Chamber of Commerce the previous year he had operated the Towne Pride Mart, then known as J & A Market. He sold the business the first of the year to Pete Lico.

As president of the Chamber, Cava was responsible last year for staging one of the most successful Old Settlers' Day programs in the city's history. He also spearheaded the Chamber in a full activity program.

Cava came to the Santa Clara Valley shortly after World War I, in which he had served in the army. He had gained considerable recognition in musical circles, having been a member of the world-famous band directed by John Phillip Sousa, but he transferred his interests to canneries when he came to California. He became an outstanding expert in that field.

He is married to the former Christina Lapiane, a native of Saratoga area. They have three married daughters who live in this area and a son, Dr. Emil Cava, who is practicing medicine in Las Vegas, Nevada. Cava also has extensive business interests in that Nevada city.

The energetic Chamber of Commerce manager, who is constantly receiving plaudits for revitalizing the local C. of C. has throughout his life kept up his interest in music. He is director of the American Legion band, the Elks band and the Southern Pacific band among others. Contacts with these musical organizations have been of value to him in the lining

SAM CAVA
. . . Gets Job Done

64th Annual Old Settlers' Day celebration this weekend.

But putting on the Old Settlers' Day event is just the first step Cava has in mind in making the local Chamber of Commerce worthy of its community. He has outlined a program of annexations for the city and is in the midst of contacting a number of industries with the objective of getting them to locate in Campbell. While president of the Chamber he was instrumental in obtaining one industry with a good-sized payroll to locate in Campbell. Several others showed interest in coming here because of Cava's presentation.

Both George Kemp, general chairman of the 64th Annual Old Settlers' Day celebration, and Milt Nelson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, officially this week paid tribute to the driving genius of Cava who almost single handedly has given Campbell and the surrounding area renewed interest.

This next week directors of the Chamber of Commerce are forming teams of two men each to contact those potential members who have not as yet paid their dues to the Chamber. The dues structure of the C. of C. has been changed in order to put the organization on a more stable foundation but some members have lagged in the payment of dues.

"In order to do a job for the town and, selfishly, in order to keep Sam Cava as manager, we must get the financial cooperation of everyone interested in the future welfare of Campbell", Nelson points out.

"Campbell needs Cava," he adds sincerely.

Those who have seen the guy operate, wholeheartedly agree.—G. V.

Those of you who were confused after reading the description under the photos on the front page in last issue have nothing on us. We were too.

If you recall, there were two pictures pertaining to Old Settlers' Day reposing on page one with the news story describing the preparations. One photo showed three guys from Cherry Lane Home and School Club, Frank Pierson, Owen Peterson and Sam Petrilia, working on a float they are entering in the parade. On the page, the picture was on the right but the cut line referred to it as being on the left. That wasn't too bad, for it was easy to figure out.

The real confusion, however, was in the cut-lines of the three actors of the Footlighter's melodrama, W. W. Johnson, Betty Adams and Edna Bowles, who posed in the "family portrait". The cut-line placed Betty Adams on the left and Edna Bowles on the right. We apologize to 'em both.

We betcha "W. W." is somewhat puzzled as to how come his hat got into his left hand in the picture. If he remembers when he was posing for the picture he was holding his hat in his right hand!

That's a neat trick and we were totally unprepared for such ambidexterity.

What happened, of course, is that when the photoengravers made a zinc plate from our photo, they inadvertently reversed the negative. With this reverse went the hat from one hand to the other. And the two gals changed places also.

We admit we were bothered about it too until we figured out what had happened.

Such occurrences can be a trifle upsetting to one's mental equilibrium.

Last week in this column we discussed the parking ticket we recently had pinned to our car by Officer John Morgan. We picked up the little number while illegally parking in the bus zone in front of the Blue Bell. We kept talking about the buck that it was going to cost us.

We should have quit when we were ahead. Our appearance in Judge Paul Crawford's court in order to get our full value cost us two dollars!

It was all very friendly and very, very informal in the crowded office of Judge Martin Walsh in the Odd Fellows building which serves as Campbell's only court each Thursday afternoon with Judge Crawford on the bench.

Despite the informality of the atmosphere the end result is probably no different than in the most staid courtroom in the world. A fine was levied and the fine was paid.

Judge Crawford first said it would be one dollar but doubled the bid in his next breath, adding that "the price of poker is going up". We will never be sure whether it was our red face or the red zone that caused him to raise the ante.

When paying the fine the judge suggested that we "could do better", inferring that our violation was very minor and that, if we were coming to court we should do so in a bigger style.

But that's enough for us, Judge. Thanks just the same.

If we never have to go to court again, it will be too soon.

Even if justice is served family-style as it is in the Campbell court.

We have a warm spot in our heart for the current drive for Guide Dogs for the Blind headed in this community by Mrs. Earl Handley, 512 Old Orchard Road.

Just about this time last year we first learned about this organization and its non-profit rehabilitation program conducted at its school in San Rafael, California. We learned about it through a personal experience which oddly enough indirectly involved Campbell long before we ever realized that we would settle here.

We were on vacation in Oakland from our job as editor of the Temple City Times last May and decided to look up a blind teacher who had just been employed as a regular eighth grade teacher in the Temple City Schools. Bill Schmidt, the teacher, who lived in Oakland, had been hired by Temple City before he had even finished San Francisco State.

We made a pictorial account of his day's activities. We shot pictures of him, his wife and his beautiful dog "Smoky". During the day, we stopped in Campbell and visited the eighth grade where Bill had done his practice teaching.

—o—

We learned that "Smoky", a German Shepherd, had been obtained from the Guide Dogs for the Blind school in San Rafael at no cost to Bill either for the training or the animal. The organization is maintained entirely through contributions from those people interested in this rehabilitation work for the blind.

Schmidt, who, by the way, is doing an excellent job in the Temple City school, is one of the 500 graduates of the school. Each graduate receives a magnificently trained guide dog at the school's commencement exercises.

That day we spent with Bill, his wife, Meta, and "Smoky" will be long remembered by us as one of our most satisfying in all our newspaper experience.

Our eyes were opened literally by a person blind since birth who had accomplished wonders, in our opinion, but which he took as a matter of course.

And "Smoky" and the San Rafael organization should be commended for giving young Schmidt additional confidence.

Young Men Should Write Gubser Now On Academy Entry

Young men interested in appointment to Annapolis, West Point, or the new Air Force academy next year should write to Congressman Charls S. Gubser at once.

Gubser announced that preparations are now being made to hold competitive examinations of applicants. Those wishing to compete must be not less than 17 nor more than 22 years of age on July 1, 1957, and must be bona fide residents of Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, or San Benito counties. Appointment is made strictly according to the merit system, with high scorers in competitive examinations offered the appointments by Gubser.

Qualified young men should notify Congressman Gubser of their interest in one of the academies at once. Letters should be addressed to 336 House Office Building, Washington 25, D. C.

Country Woman's Club Welcomes Local Residents to 'Library Tea'

By Alys Riley

Library clubrooms will be open wide to all Campbell residents next Monday at 2 p. m. for the annual "Library Tea". This traditional benefit for the Campbell Library, sponsored by the Campbell Country Woman's Club, gives all local citizens an opportunity to participate in the support of one of the oldest institutions in Campbell.

The annual benefit is the one local event during the year when residents can meet in a friendly gathering and learn more about its background. With its participation with the Santa Clara County Free Library, the local library makes available to adults and children alike, a wide variety of literature. The tea next Monday also affords residents an opportunity to materially support their own library.

Long History

The history of the library goes back 62 years when one of our old settlers, the late Judge Myrick, made the first contribution, matched by donations from the cummunity, forming the nucleus of the Campbell Free Library. During that era, a free library was a rarity, especially in a small community.

The first president, the late Prof. Elijah Janes, for over 20 years, without compensation other than his own pleasure in the work, traveled the mile between his home and the village center, to open the library and place before the reading people of Campbell the books he maintained and gathered for their use and enjoyment.

The books at first were kept in the small building used for a school room, opposite the Congregational Church, and later moved to the parlor of the Congregational Church, which was offered free of charge.

The library was supported mainly by donations and an occasional lecture and entertainment given for the cause.

However, space was limited and more room needed for the increasing volume of books.

Club Organized

No further effort was made to enlarge facilities until the Campbell Country Woman's Club was organized in 1905, whose main objective was to promote the growth of the Campbell Free Library. Other community interests were aided by this club, but their main objective through the years has been building and maintaining the library.

Although the library today is affiliated with the Santa Clara County Free Library and receives some support from the Red Feather agency, magazine subscriptions, some reference books, new book shelves, lighting and even a portion of the librarian's salary is still taken care of by Campbell Country Woman's Club through their many efforts and their annual fund raising events, such as the Library Tea next Monday.

Many other old settlers in and around Campbell contributed their funds, time and efforts toward the cultural life of the community. Many of them are no longer living, but many others are still with us, still striving unselfishly to promote the intellectual growth of the citizens, particularly the young people.

In 1905, under the leadership of Mrs. Ida Price, who passed away earlier this year, Campbell's first real service club, the Country Woman's Club, was organized "To promote kindly fellowship, to foster worthy talent in our midst, and to aid the growth of the Campbell Free Library".

The club's first objective was, to provide a building for the library, with a reading room and clubrooms for community cultural activities.

New Buildings

After many years of unwavering effort in raising funds to purchase a site and erect a building to house the library, their dream was finally realized, and on October 4, 1923, the new library was opened to the public and the community was invited to its reception and dedication when tribute was also paid to its pioneer supporters.

Five years later, in a ceremony directed by the club president, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, the town again joined in another celebration representing the last milestone in the efforts of the public spirited club women when a note, the last vestige of indebtedness, was burned, while Mrs. E. R. Kennedy read an appropriate requiem to the ashes.

During the early years of their history, the Country Woman's Club demonstrated their good will and neighborly spirit to other com-

VFW AUXILIARY TO MARCH IN PARADE

Byron Lanphear Post No. 6305, V. F. W. Auxiliary at their meeting last Tuesday, decided to participate in the Old Settlers' Day Parade, when several members will march as flag bearers.

The group also made arrangements to prepare a "Poppy Day" display at Benson's Campbell Cleaners. Mrs. Isable Megown was named "Poppy Day" chairman.

Mrs. Edna Smith, junior past president, and Ernestine Jones were selected to represent the group at the County Council. Alternate delegates named were Mmes. Betty Phelan, Frances McCurdy and Isable Megown.

The Kentucky Derby has been held annually at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky., since 1875.

BPW INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

Emily McConnel, co-owner of Rachel's, was installed president of the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club at a dinner meeting last Thursday evening by Marjorie Hitch, junior past president of the Peninsula District. The installation was held in the flower-decked banquet room of the Red Coach Inn.

As guest speaker, Mrs. Hitch, vice-president of the San Francisco Bank of America, told the group that much more can be accomplished by a club than an individual and new problems awaken new interest and promote progress.

At the close of the installation, Margaret Leick, retiring president, turned over the gavel to the newly installed president and presented her with a pin designating her office. She in turn was presented with a past president's pin.

Other officers seated during the evening were: Alma Harrison, president-elect; Edith Morley, vice-president; Dorothy Fouch, recording secretary; Emily Snyder corresponding secretary; Lucille Solomon, financial secretary; Anamae Periera, treasurer and Hannah Berglund, auditor. Directors are Rosalind Strandberg, Margaret Leick and Evelyn Benson.

A special guest was Denise Solomon, 18 year old candidate for Old Settlers' Days Queen who is being sponsored by the club.

Entertainment wsas provided by Nick De Rose, vocalist, and Judy Clark, accompanist, both students at Campbell High School; and acrobatic dancers Robin O'Flyng and Barbara Cornet.

Grange Hears Talk on Cancer

Orchard City Grange No. 333 at their last meeting, heard Dr. Robert M. Wade of Campbell in a discussion on cancer and its detection. He also showed a sound film on the cancer drive. A question and answer period followed.

Grange Master B. K. Werner turned the meeting over to Lecturer Mrs. Cora Kaufmann who presented the program. Herbert Shadle, chairman of the program, introduced Dr. Wade.

During the meeting, Herb Shadle and Frank E. Carey spoke to the group on the Grange credit union. Other matters taken up were a vote to contribute $5 to the Cancer Drive Fund honoring the memory of Mrs. Flora Raab, who passed away recently. The group is again sponsoring an agriculture student and voted to present a $25 U. S. Savings Bond to Gary Steindorf, a local student.

John Gordon, district deputy, announced the next Pomona meeting will be held in the Masonic hall at Mountain View on Saturday when the five degree team will again present their drill in special dress, under black lights, as arranged by Mervin Keesling. A potluck dinner at 6:30 p. m. will precede the meeting.

Visitors at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Carey of Almaden and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Walsh of Los Gatos Grange. Master Walsh announced the Los Gatos Grange will hold a pie social next Monday and extended an invitation to the local group to attend. Walsh was also asked to give the closing charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Shadle were in charge of refreshments, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hendricks, Miss Ruby Crow and Fred Brown.

CCPT TO CONVENE

"Our Investment in America—Strengthening Communities" is the theme selected by California Congress of Parents and Teachers for their convention May 9, 10 and 11 in Sacramento.

Mrs. Charles Stephens presided at the meeting when the nominating committee was selected. Mmes. Phil Maxfield, Claude Cunningham and Junior Morgan were chosen for the nominating committee.

Jack Russell from a San Jose music school presented fifteen of his students in several instrumental numbers. He was assisted by Dan Livesay.

Mmes. Charles Stephens, Laurance Hill and John Runcie were named to select the senior high school girl to receive the $100 scholarship award toward her teaching education.

munities, when they made a donation to the neighboring Saratoga Foothills Club for their building, even though at that time, their own dream of a library building and clubroom had not yet been realized.

With their many enterprises to benefit the library fund, the club, over the years, has brought before Campbell residents many well known artists. musicians and lecturers, besides sponsoring many entertainments for the community.

Old Settlers' Day

Old Settlers' Day celebration this week is indeed a fitting time to pay tribute to this pioneer group who has done so much, through their unswerving efforts over the years, to make available to us our fine library, besides other efforts from which so many of us have benefitted.

Although the library building has long been completed, maintenance needs still continue. There is a need to increase facilities to meet the literary needs of our ever growing community, which has shown an increasing interest, particularly children and school students, in the many books, magazines and reference books provided for them.

The Country Woman's Club extends an invitation to the entire community to attend the Library Tea next Monday. Members stress that the tea is a public affair and by no means limited to club members.

Brown-Bieler Wedding Here Climaxes Romance Begun in Switzerland

Church of Christ in Campbell, decorated with calla lilies and ferns, was the scene of a wedding on April 21, when Miss Marlene Beiler became the bride of Ardean Lyn Brown, culminating a romance that began in Switzerland two years ago when Lyn was stationed in Germany with the U. S. Army.

When Miss Beiler met the groom at the altar for the ceremony, she was attired in a ballerina length gown of nylon net over satin with insets of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil descended from a coronet of lace. Her French-type bouquet was centered with an orchid corsage, surrounded with Bouvardia and carnations. Mr. Cliff Winters officiated at the ceremony.

Church of Christ Chorus was heard in "O Promise Me" and "Faithful and True", before the ceremony.

Mrs. William Tatum, her matron of honor and only attendant, wore a shell pink strapless, ballerina length gown of nylon net over satin, with a nylon net stole. Her French-type bouquet was of pink carnations.

William Tatum attended the groom as his best man.

Mrs. Mentie Brown, mother of the groom, chose a plum colored faille suit for the ceremony. Her accessories were pink and a white carnation corsage was pinned at her shoulder.

Following the ceremony, a reception for more than 150 relatives and friends was held in the church annex which was decorated with calla lilies and candelabra. The bride and groom cut their four-tiered wedding cake that was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

When the couple left for their honeymoon trip to southern California and Mexico, the new Mrs. Brown wore a blue and white print dress with a bouffant skirt. Her coat and accessories were white and the orchid corsage from her wedding bouquet was pinned at her shoulder.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mr. Michael Bieler of Dubendorf, Switzerland. She attended schools in Bern, Switzerland, and until her arrival here a few months ago, was employed as a shipping clerk in Dubendorf, Switzerland. Her brother, Michael, and two sisters, Yvonne and Aveline, reside in Switzerland.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Mentie Brown and the late Newton W. Brown, of 100 Central Ave., Campbell. He graduated from from Campbell schools and is employed by Western Electric Company.

Out-of-town relatives of the groom who attended the wedding and reception were: Mrs. Frances Gauny of Los Angeles and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gauny and their three children Jerry Lyn, Roseanne and Roxanne, of West Covina, and Leslie Jones and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones of National City.

Following their wedding trip the couple will make their home at 4 Garrison Drive, Campbell.

CAMBRIAN BOY WINS COUNTY 4-H AWARD

"Let's Get Those Bugs", demonstration prepared by Chuck Kaffer of the Cambrian 4-H Club, received the highest award last Saturday at the County 4-H demonstration contest held at Campbell High School.

The award entitles Chuck, along with 22 other club members of Santa Clara County 4-H Clubs, to represent the county at the Regional Field Day to be held at Freedom School, near Watsonville on June 2. Chuck, incidentally, won top award last year also with his demonstration on seed germination.

Blue ribbon winners from Cambrian 4-H Club were: Charles Mignosa with his demonstration on first-year electricity; Linda Vroom who showed "How to Prepare a Hearty Sandwich", and Barbara Donohue who received the red award, for second place, for her "Operation Beach Bag". All the other Cambrian 4-H Club members received white awards for their demonstrations.

Al McClintock is community leader of the Cambrian 4-H Club.

Mrs. D. A. Gutierres, chairman of the Old Timers' Movie Night to be held May 25, gave a summary of the film to be shown. Included in the program will be a history of movies dating back to the beginning of the film industry. A

The next meeting on May 25 will be held at the Live Oak Inn in Los Gatos.

Mrs. Maxine Smith and Mrs. Edna Black served refreshments at the close of the meeting.
